POST CARD

CORRESPONDENCE

ADDRESS

Just a quick note for you all. Spent my 21st birthday in Amman. Because it was the Battle of Britain day, we had a parade and were given the day off. Quite lucky I suppose!

I hope I can come home soon. Keep a slice of cake for me.
Sending love.

POST CARD

CORRESPONDENCE

Just a few lines.
The Officer in Command came round today. He saw on my card that I'm Agnostic. He said "you can't be an Agnostic!" and I said "why not?" He said, "oh no that wouldn't go down well". I said,
"well I am an agnostic",

The Chapel,
91 Wrexham St,

so he said, "well just for today be C of E for when the Officer comes round".
All my love

CORRESPONDENCE

ADDRESS

To my sweetheart.
I saw an old school friend today, who now happens to be an Officer. I was excited to see him but I called him by his first name - I got into trouble for that and sent to the cookhouse to work! I've got blisters for thumbs now.
I miss your apple crumble.

Dear Peggy and Michael,
I flew over Egypt and saw the pyramids today and had my photo taken on a camel next to the Sphinx.
It isn't half big and makes for fantastic shade in the heat. I think Wales must have a different sun than Egypt. Missing you all.

Just a note whilst there's time. Weather's hot here - we only have to work in the morning whilst the sun is low. We stop working at midday which is a relief. I don't mind the job but I wouldn't swap it for our farm.
Send me some rain please darling!
